

ISAAC DALTON.

DECEMBER 23, 1831.

Mr. HUBBARD, from the Committee on Revolutionary Pensions, made the following

REPORT:

The Committee, to whom was referred the petition of Isaac Dalton, report:

That it appears, from the affidavits of the petitioner, of Moses Collins, and of Thomas Evans, that the petitioner served his country in the army of the revolution, under different enlistments, in 1777, 1778, and in 1779, fifteen months: that he was at the battle of Stillwater, at the capture of Burgoyne. It also appears, from the affidavit of the petitioner, that he enlisted into Captain Scott's company, in the regiment commanded by Colonel Cilley, on the continental establishment, about first of March, 1780, and continued to serve in said corps until the last of December then next. This statement is partly confirmed by the deposition of Samuel Collins and Joseph B. Hoyt. They depose, that they knew him as a soldier in Captain Scott's company; were with him a part of the time: they joined the army in June or July, 1780; found Dalton then in the service; and they both testify that the character of Dalton for truth, is good.

In April, 1829, the petitioner was possessed of property to the amount of $539 45. A part of this consisted of a small house and barn, and about one acre of land, which was valued at $200. Since that time, a long, protracted, and severe sickness of his wife, which terminated in her death, has much reduced this amount of property. The petitioner is very old and infirm, entirely unable to labor, and has recently lost the use of one of his eyes. A certificate from two very respectable persons, made since the inventory of his property was taken, satisfactorily shows that the petitioner is in need, and has been for the last two years in indigent circumstances. They, therefore, report a bill for his relief.

It also appears from the affidavit of the petitioner, that he enlisted into Captain Scott's company, in the regiment commanded by Colonel Ciley, on the command establishment, about first of March, 1780, and continued to serve in said corps until the last of December, then next. The statement is partly corroborated by the deposition of Samuel Collins, and Joseph R. Hays. They depose, that they knew him as a soldier in Captain Scott's company; were with him a part of the time; they joined the army in June or July, 1780; found Dalton then in the service; and they both testify that the character of Dalton for truth, is good. In April, 1780, the petitioner was possessed of property to the amount of $538 45. A part of this consisted of a small house and barn, and about one acre of land, which was valued at $300. Since that time, and for several years, and severe sickness of his wife, which terminated in her death, he has much reduced this amount of property. The petitioner is very old and infirm, entirely unable to labor, and has recently lost the use of one of his eyes. A certificate from two very respectable persons, made upon the inventory of his property was taken, satisfactorily shows that the petitioner is in need, and has been for the last two years in indigent circumstances.
